House for sale

Name: _____ Date: _____

Imagine your own home is for sale. Write a set of estate agents' details advertising the property.

Notes for teachers

Ask the children to read the passage slowly carefully, ensuring that they understand that it consists of estate agents' details about a large house that is for sale. Provide them with the estate agents' details on the flat featured in the previous exercise. Encourage them to use both sets of details as prompts for their own writing.
